Samuel HoweMusic... symbol of a people, of a time, of a time. Music can be representative for a moment, of an achievement, of a generation, of one or many emotions. What would life be without music? Of all the music in the world, there is always someone who touches us deeper, who touches us and bothers us more than the others. Music does not know geographical boundaries, nor does it know language barriers. Music is one of the most universal things there is. It's all in the feeling. Even if the lyrics are not understood, the song can still touch the listener. Everyone likes music, regardless of rhythm, origin, the music speaks to people's deepest feelings. Music has always been present in the culture of mankind. Troubadour poetry, accompanied by sounds, and symbolic poems, aimed at musically in their creations, are examples of artistic use of music, as the goal is to bring joy to the ears and evoke emotions. Music is recognized by many scientists as a modality that develops the human mind, promotes balance, provides a pleasant state of well-being, facilitates concentration and development of reasoning, especially in reflective questions focused on thought. Italian music is an example of all this, known for the beauty of their lyrics, the voices that interpret them and the unique sound, Italian music has won the world.
